1. Between 12 and 22 March 1955, a delegation of East German forestermen was in Poland. The delegation included three members of the Akademie der Landwirtschafts-Wissenschaften (academy of agricultural sciences) in Eberswalde and three members of the forestry department of the Agriculture and Forestry Ministry in Berlin. It was led by Herr Schuetze (Suh) of the planning section of the forestry department of the Agriculture and Forestry Ministry.
2. The delegation visited cultivated Polish forest areas and exchanged ideas on ~~forestry~~ questions with Polish experts. It touched Warsaw, Katowice, ~~Wroclaw~~, ~~Cracow~~, Lublin and Bialystok.
3. The forests in Poland are cultivated. Cuttings are being reforested. The delegation observed that all clear-fellings older than one year were being reforested.
4. The average growing stock for the entire Polish administrative area amounts to 188 cubic meters per hectare. This average stock is calculated from the relation of the amount of trees over 7 cm minimum diameter to the amount of hectares of the entire productive wooded area. ¹
5. A forest worker in Poland is paid 800 zl per month, a district forester 900 zl, a resident forest-superintendent 1,000 zl and a forest manager 1,200 zl. Professors of the science of forestry are paid 1,500 zl per month.
6. The forestermen in Poland are also the huntsmen in their districts. They are in the possession of sporting guns and are allowed to go hunting without reporting to the police.

1. ☐ Comment. ☐ the average growing stock in East Germany is 92 cubic meters per hectare.
